How sales-i works

We make Business Intelligence really simple

Our Business Intelligence software eliminates the time, cost and complexity of accessing and analysing your business data. sales-i empowers your sales team to be the very best.

You can identify potential competitor threats, predict your competitor's selling activity, reel in drifting customers and cut product leakage. sales-i also gives you targeted customer data to spot cross, up and link-selling opportunities in an instant.

As the single sales development tool that integrates your hard business data with your soft data – that is, your customer relationship management data – sales-i accepts and collates the two, giving a complete picture of your customer, prospect and sales team transactions.

- 1 An automated task extracts your daily transactions from your in house accounting system which sales-i then accepts overnight.
- 2 This transactional data is then processed into your company cube using the sales-i cloud.
- 3 sales-i then monitors your customer's buying behaviour, alerting your sales team to every opportunity and competitive threat.

Sometimes the questions are complicated and the answers are simple

The SaaS (Software-as-a-Service) model

sales-i is provided on a SaaS (Software-as-a-Service) model. With no hardware or infrastructure to buy, install, maintain or worry about. SaaS is simple and sales-i is easily accessible over any Internet connection, from any computer or any web enabled device – any time, anywhere.

What's more – there's no capital outlay either. Being based on a small monthly subscription, the return on investment is immediate and sustained.

What does sales-i give you?

» Identify new sales opportunities: sales-i gives you targeted customer data straight to your inbox. You'll find cross, link, up and switch selling opportunities fast. For example, easily find out who has bought bricks but not cement to go with it in the last 30 days.

Businesses of all sizes rely upon sales-i to protect their customer share, increase margins and spot potential competitor threats.

» Save time producing reports: no longer will you spend hours pulling out sales information into an actionable format. sales-i automatically produces in-depth daily reports so you know you'll always have the most up to date information and free up time for other important tasks.

» Keeps your customers happy: With a built-in CRM system, you'll easily be able to store your customer records, connect with your customers and close deals faster. Plus you'll have complete visibility of your customers' buying behaviour so you know what, how and when to talk to them whilst building stronger relationships.

If you already have a CRM system, sales-i will seamlessly integrate with it, giving you a more proactive system.

» What else?: sales-i can be tailored to your specific business needs. You'll also have more control over your sales pipeline and get dedicated mobile apps, so you'll have sales intelligence whenever and wherever you are.

Business Intelligence can be a maze, that's why we keep it simple and have

99% customer retention

Our customers are always telling us how they have improved their performance, their margins, increased their sales and gained a greater share of customer spend.

With thousands of success stories, from companies of all sizes that are transforming the way they sell, our customers' stories speak for themselves.

Our customers range from SMEs up to some of the biggest Fortune 500 organisations that turnover billions of pounds.

Our Business Intelligence software is designed with your field sales team in mind. Simple, effective analytics to make better business decisions.

Designed with you in mind

No matter how cutting-edge a BI application is, or how well it is built and implemented, it is ultimately the end-user who has to make the most out of it.

sales-i understands this and that's why our software has an intuitive interface that is so easy to pick up. In minutes you'll be receiving automated reports, understanding your customer's buying behaviour and having priority call to actions delivered directly to you.

In simple terms, if you can navigate a website, you can use sales-i. It's that easy.

You don't have to be an IT superhero to use our software.

Your data is secure

We understand how valuable data is to your business. That's why it is our number one priority.

We employ the right processes and partner only with the very best data centres: Rackspace and NTT America Online.

From the second you upload your data, it is locked down in a secure server, inaccessible by anyone outside your organisation. Plus we'll only ever access it when we have your written permission to do so.

Is your business futureproof?

Data is transforming the way every business operates. Loyalty cards, cross selling, even advertising are all tailored to a buyer's behaviour. By understanding your data you can create smart, actionable business decisions.

Gone are the days of wasting time creating sales reports. Our technology makes reporting fast, easy and accurate. Don't get left behind your competitors, embrace Business Intelligence today and see the results for yourself.
